

Creating a positive & successful Coaching Environment

A workshop for all coaches working with athletes of all levels

As coaches, we spend a lot of time gathering information about WHAT we coach, but how much time do we spend thinking about HOW we coach? The Network is very pleased that Juergen Klinger (Head Coach Bath Uni) will be able to lead this workshop, and draw on his experience as a National Judo Coach in both GB and Germany in creating and maintaining a successful atmosphere for the development of both young athletes as well as more elite performers. There are more similarities between judo and athletics than might be apparent, and this is a non event specific evening looking at the craft of coaching.
